Commuter Benefits

Keep more money
in your pocket.

What are Commuter Benefits?

Commuter Benefits allow you to set aside pre-tax dollars from your paycheck to pay for qualified commuting expenses. Because you don't have to pay taxes on payroll deductions that go into your commuter accounts, you can keep more of your hard-earned money in your pocket.

Expenses you can pay with your commuter accounts

Transit accounts help you pay for expenses such as bus, train, ferry, subway or vanpool when traveling between your home and workplace.

Parking accounts help you pay for parking expenses at or near your workplace, or near whichever form of public transportation you use to get to work.

How they work

1. Decide if you will use a transit account, a parking account, or a combination of the two.
2. Determine the amount of money you want deducted from your payroll each month to put in your transit and/or parking account(s).
3. Funds are available as soon as your contributions are deposited into your account(s) each pay period to pay for qualified commuter expenses.

Up to $270

monthly contribution and spending limit per account

You can contribute and spend this monthly maximum for each account. You can adjust your payroll election throughout the year should your needs change.

Calculate your tax savings

Consider how much you plan to contribute to your transit and/or parking account, and then calculate how much more you can keep in your pocket by using pre-tax dollars. For example, if you make a pre-tax contribution of $150 each month, you could save more than $620 in taxes by the end of the year. Here's the math:

Taxes saved on $150 monthly contribution to your Commuter Benefits¹

Federal tax (22%)	$33.00
State tax (5%)	$7.50
FICA tax (7.65%)	$11.47
Monthly payroll tax savings	$51.97
Annual tax savings	$623.64
